

RECONSTRUCTION OF OLD MEXICO MOST SERIOUS TASK OVER BORDER

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, March 22.—The proposition of a coalition of Mexicans to work for the reconstruction of Mexico and to re-establish the constitution of 1857, is the aim of an organization committee formed here recently as the nucleus of a proposed "Nationalist Alliance."

Practically every Mexican faction opposing the Carranza regime is represented by the committee formed here. The committee members are: Dr. Leopoldo Paulada, Eugenio de la Sierra, D. M. Ortiz, Pedro de Leon, Miguel B. Alvarez, Jose M. Gutierrez, Ricardo Gomez Robelo, L. McManus, Mariano Ruiz, Ignacio L. Montenegro, Eduardo B. Arnold, Jose Carmona, Fernando Zarraga, Luis E. Torres, M. Ramos, Jacinto Primitivo, Helodoro Duenas, Jorge Vera Eschana, Federico Garcelay Alva. Dr. Zarraga is president and Mr. Duenas secretary.

The members of the alliance expressed confidence the organization will unite many factions heretofore unable to work together and that through political activity, it will eventually bring about better conditions and better government in the Mexican republic.

The object of the National Alliance is set forth in the following program tentatively adopted:

"First—Restoration of the constitution of 1857.

"Second—The study and execution of practical means of equitably solving the Mexican agricultural and agrarian problem.

"Third—The study and execution of practical means of bringing about the mental, moral, economic and social uplift of the Mexican working man."

"Fourth—The establishment in Mexico of universal education of the masses.

"Fifth—Directing the national policy of Mexico toward cordial relationship to foreign nations, and citizens, and more particularly those of America—Latin as well as Anglo-Saxon."

HIGH HANDED OUTRAGE ON PEOPLE OF ARIZONA

The state of Arizona is just now feeling the disadvantage of having in both the senate and house, Democrats who feel under the partisan necessity of standing by the administration even when they disapprove of its actions. In direct opposition to the wishes of the people of Arizona, the president, at the instance of Commissioner of Indian Affairs

Cato-Sells, has enlarged the Papago Indian reservation by 3,000,000 acres, or an area as large as the state of Connecticut, separating the two principal towns in Pima county of which Tucson is the county seat.

According to the report that comes to Washington, there are some 500 nomadic Indians of the Papago tribe, some of them residents of Mexico. At the instance of local Indian officials and without consultation with the white residents of the vicinity, the commissioner of Indian affairs induced the president to set aside as an Indian reservation the area above referred to. The white residents of the country made a strenuous fight against the action of the executive but the only result accomplished was the exemption of a sufficient amount of land for a right of way across the tract for a road. Even this proved to be an injury to the local county interests for the elimination of the land upon which the road should be built imposed upon the county the burden of road construction. Although the road will for all practical purposes traverse the Indian reservation, it will be located upon land excluded from the reservation, and the county, which gets no income from taxation of the land, must bear the burden of road construction.

The utter disregard of the wishes and interests of the white residents of the state was also illustrated in the location and naming of the Indian reservation and its headquarters. The headquarters had formerly been located nine miles south of Tucson, on the railroad and reached by telephone lines. The commissioner of Indian affairs removed the headquarters to a new location 75 miles from the capital without telephone or railroad connections, and then changed the name of the new location from "Indian Oasis" to "Sells." The "Papago Indian reservation" became the "Cato Sells reservation."

Subsequent to the events described the local interests, at a meeting, at which Mr. Sells was present, endeavored to have the bureau of Indian affairs bear part of the expense of building a road through the reservation. This the commissioner declined to do, saying that he couldn't see how a road would be of any benefit to the Indians. The local authorities have already expended $110,000 building a road from Tucson to the eastern line of the reservation and are getting ready to expend $50,000 to build a road to the western line.

Either through inability or disinclination, the two senators and the representative from Arizona, all Democrats, have failed to secure for the white people residing in the vicinity of the reservation an adequate protection of their interests.

British Empire.
Great Britain comprises England, Scotland and Wales, all parts of one island, and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland includes Ireland as an addition. The British empire consists of all these and India, the colonies, other islands, protectorates and dependencies.

New Drill for Oil Wells.
A submersible electric motor which grips the sides of the well casing features a new rotary drill for oil wells.

FOREWARNED IS FOREARMED

ESTIMATE OF WOOL IN EASTERN UTAH

SALT LAKE CITY, March 22.—A wool clip approximating 2,000,000 pounds is in sight along the lines of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad in Utah, according to E. S. Blair, division freight agent of the road, who recently completed a trip over those lines. Mr. Blair anticipates an immense traffic in wool and sheep this spring.

The sheep have wintered well, reports received thus far indicate. There has been no scarcity of feed and the quality of the wool is expected to be the same as in 1918. Growers appear to be concerned chiefly with the market price, their anxiety being due to a fear that a surplus of wool in the hands of the government may be thrown upon the market, although government officials have denied that there is any such intention.

Stock certificates printed and bound on short notice at this office.
